

ANNE MORGAN OPENS VACATION CAMP

Surf Lures Newport Society; Casino Gay

Miss Mildred Rives and Miss Gabrielle Warren Lead the Way at Bailey's Beach—Prominent Entertainers Already Issuing Invitations.

Newport, June 19.—Surf bathing by the members of the Newport summer colony promises to be more popular this year than ever. Bailey's Beach did not officially open until this week, but for some days a few of the younger set already here had been taking daily dips in the ocean. The honor of opening the season fell to Miss Mildred Rives and Miss Gabrielle Warren, both of whom are clever swimmers. Miss Sarah Schuyler Butler followed their lead. George L. Scott was among the first of the men to try the surf.

The bathing house facilities of Bailey's Beach have been enlarged this year. The few warm days of the present week have served to open the season and Bellevue Avenue each day is taking on a livelier appearance. The Casino is so gay that those in charge thought it best to postpone the usual week the summer schedule as thus far arranged.

While the Casino does not have the dog show this year, there will be flower shows, one on July 8 and 9, and the sweet pea show and the gladiolus show on August 18 and 19.

The invitation tennis tournament will take the place of the national event that the Casino had for so long, and this tournament will open on August 10 and continue for several days, possibly a week or more. The next fixture will be the Horse Show, which this year is opening a little earlier than usual, the dates selected being September 3, 4 and 6. It will close on Labor Day instead of opening on that day.

The music season will open on July 3. Conrad's Band has again been selected, and as usual there will be noontime concerts each day except Sunday. Sunday afternoon concerts and Wednesday afternoon concerts will be given. Some of the women of the summer colony have already begun to arrange their large parties and make announcements of the dates. Governor and Mrs. R. Livingston Beekman have sent word that they want the evening of July 3 kept open, as it is their intention to give at Land's End a big Fourth of July party, dinner and fireworks.

Mrs. Stuart Dunham has announced a party on the evening of July 5, but the real opening of her new villa will not take place until July 30. This will be in the form of a housewarming, starting off with a dinner and followed by a dance.

Another July event announced this week will take place on July 15. This will be a lawn party on the estate of Mrs. William Grover, Rodlyn, and will be for the benefit of St. Mary's Orphanage in Providence. A lawn party for the benefit of this home is given in Newport each summer, and many of the women of the summer colony take interest in it.

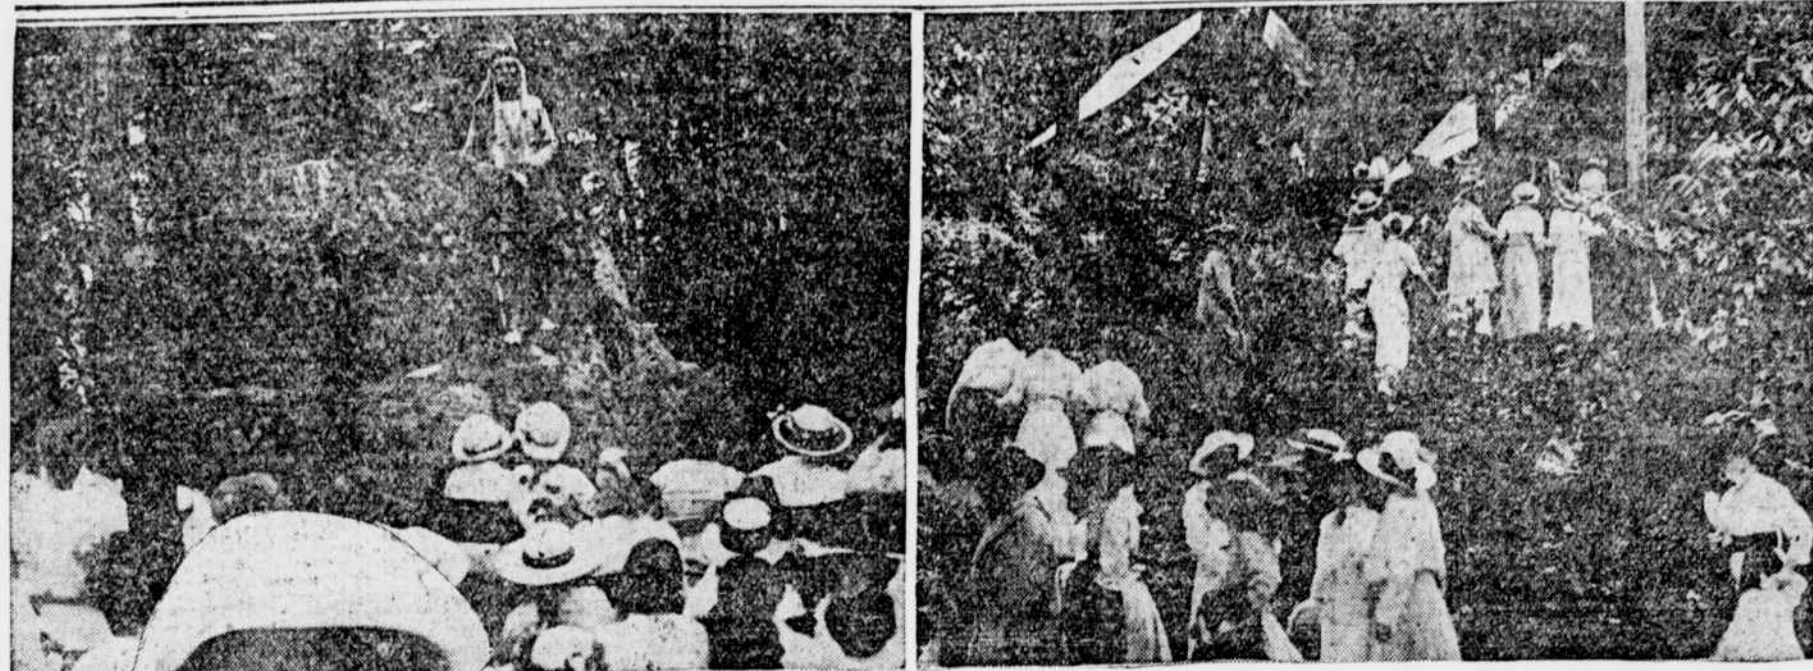

Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. McCagg will spend the greater part of the summer at Bar Harbor, and they have rented their rebuilt summer home on Gibbs Avenue to Mrs. Francis Mason, of Boston. Mrs. Mason will take possession of the house the latter part of the month, and Mr. and Mrs. McCagg will have the cottages down so much life at this early period as now, and the indications are for a record season. Among the arrivals from New York this week was Mrs. William Force, who is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. John Jacob Astor, at Isle Cote. Miss Katherine Force is also expected at Isle Cote, as is Miss Helen Dodge. Mrs. Astor was hostess at an informal dinner party Monday evening.

Mrs. J. Riddle Porter and her daughter, Miss Cassandra Porter, of Washington, are again in the Wyandott.

It is probable that Mr. and Mrs. William Pierce Hamilton, of New York, will occupy the Herbert Lee Satterlee camp, as the owner will not be here. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Renshaw, of Albany, are the first newcomers to visit Bar Harbor. They are at the Hotel St. Sauveur, which opened its doors especially to accommodate them. Mrs. Renshaw was Miss Lisa Staudam, of New York, and has spent many summers here. She is an ardent golf player and never misses a day at the Kebo Valley Club links when the weather is favorable.

Acquisitions this season are Mr. and Mrs. Childs Sherrill, of New York, who arrived this week to occupy the Fry cottage.

Bar Harbor Cottages Call Owners Early

Bar Harbor, Me., June 19.—Never have the cottages down so much life at this early period as now, and the indications are for a record season. Among the arrivals from New York this week was Mrs. William Force, who is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. John Jacob Astor, at Isle Cote. Miss Katherine Force is also expected at Isle Cote, as is Miss Helen Dodge. Mrs. Astor was hostess at an informal dinner party Monday evening.

Izaak Waltons Seek White Mountain Trout

Bretton Woods, N. H., June 19.—While many of the cottage colony in the Switzerland of America have long since arrived in the White Hills, the operation of the summer train schedules on June 22 will be responsible for a large influx of new arrivals, and in the meantime the motor roads are crowded with cars bearing Izaak Waltons northward for the June trout fishing and the joy of seeing the hills before the crowds of tourists begin to arrive. The building of a new hotel on the summit of Mount Washington is being rushed so that the hotel may be completed for occupancy by the first of August when the tide of travel is at its height. This hotel will be known as the Tip Top House and is being built at Lisbon and taken up the cog wheel railway piece-meal.

Mountain climbing is already being enjoyed by members of the Appalachian Mountain Club, who make early pilgrimages to the hills and from Gorham, Randolph, Intervale and other convenient points, scale the peaks of the Presidential and Franconia Ranges. The finest panorama in the East is unquestionably that from Mount Agassiz at Bethlehem, which is an easy climb from town and one made by thousands every year.

Dancing will be an important feature of the good times at the various resorts, and among those making special preparations are the New Profile House where a dancing pavilion is being constructed at Echo Lake for Danzants. An auxiliary orchestra and dance music here and at the hotel in the evening. The Foret de Danse at the Mount Washington at Bretton Woods will have a rolling orchestra, and at the Crawford and Fabian, Twin Mountain, Sinclair, Maplewood, Sunset Hill, Kearsarge, Mountain View, Waumbek, Balsams and others of the White Mountain hotels special arrangements have been made for teaching and exhibition dancing.

The Elm Tree Inn at Colebrook is opening an attractive tea house in one of the loveliest spots in the White Mountains where motor parties and gay crowds from the hotels will do much of their entertaining are springing up throughout the White Mountains. Jefferson are General and Mrs. Anson G. McCook, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wray Cleveland, Mrs. K. A. Neuhoff, Mr. and Mrs. Victor and their family, and Mr. and Mrs. William L. Ward, of Port Chester. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Atwood will be with Mrs. Algernon Sidney Jarvis at the cottage and also of this colony will be Mr. and Mrs. Francis Palmer, Colonel and Mrs. W. N. P. Darrow, Colonel and Mrs. Willis S. Paine, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Tappin and Mrs. Charles Stuart Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Beadleston, Dr. and Mrs. J. Blake White, Captain Gilbert P. Cotton, the Plaza, and many other prominent New Yorkers will be at the Mount Washington at Bretton Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Thompson, Mrs. Alfred Skitt, Miss Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Atkinson, Mrs. Nellie Ashby and Mr. and Mrs. Felix Arnold will be among New Yorkers at the Crawford

House, and at the Sinclair House will be Mr. and Mrs. George L. Crawford, Westchester; Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Monell, of Tuxedo, and Colonel and Mrs. R. A. Swigert, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Chapman and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Childs and many other New Yorkers will be of the cottage colony at the Maplewood Hotel.

The New Monmouth Hotel will be opened to-day and among its early guests will be the members of the Society of the Colonial Wars and the New Jersey Medical Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Welsh Rogers have returned to their estate, at Lakewood; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Maloney and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Heilner.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Kuser, of Trenton, have returned to their Brighton Avenue cottage. Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Maxwell, of Trenton, will also return soon. Mrs. Frank O. Briggs will again occupy rooms at the New Monmouth.

The week's arrivals include: Alaire—Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Turner, R. I. Wendell, W. F. Kropff, of New York; W. H. Byrne, of Brooklyn.

Shoreham—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Carrs, L. S. Kirtland, Mrs. Henry W. Johns, the Misses John, Joseph Henna, W. A. Haughton, Mrs. L. Barrett, Mrs. K. D. Strang, Miss Strang, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Tourney, Mrs. Charles Holland, Mrs. L. H. James and William Hanauer, of New York.

Gov. Fielder as host

Sea Girt, N. J., June 19.—Governor and Mrs. James F. Fielder, of New Jersey, who are now occupying the "Little White House" on the camp grounds, will entertain the members of the New Jersey Legislature and their wives here next Wednesday. This is an annual social event and one that is always popular with the lawmakers, as it gives them an opportunity to enjoy the chief executive's hospitality and talk shop.

The Governor and Mrs. Fielder went to Clinton yesterday where they attended the opening of the Woman's Reformatory.

Two hundred and fifty departmental, staff, field and line officers of the New Jersey National Guard have been here this week in attendance at the annual school of instruction for officers, which is presided over by officers of the regular army of the United States.

Arrivals of the week include: Tremont—Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Tremont, Miss J. M. Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Post, H. F. Ahern and Mr. and Mrs. Francis F. Ahern, of New York; A. Frederick Reiners, Miss E. J. Seibert and the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Heinrichmann, of Brooklyn.

Parker House—Mrs. V. Van Kirk and Miss Agnes Van Kirk, of New York.

A. J. DREXELS BUILD.

Atville, N. Y., June 19.—In the Dry Brook region there has been considerable activity this season and a handsome summer home has been erected since last winter for Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel, which they are expected to occupy during a part of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, Kingdon Gould, Jay Gould and George J. Gould, Jr., spent the early part of June at Furlough Lodge, their summer home in the Dry Brook Valley.

Lenox Social Season Opened at the Club

Lenox, Mass., June 19.—Albert E. Gallatin started the social season this week at the Lenox Club, where he entertained Saturday night for Mr. and Mrs. Pierre L. Barby, of Tuxedo. The music room, dining room and parlors were decorated with early garden flowers. Mrs. John E. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Astor Brinck, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Delafeld gave dinners before the dance. A supper was served at midnight.

Cottagers continue to arrive at their Berkshire estates. Among those opening their summer homes this week were Thatcher M. Adams, Mrs. William Douglas Sloane, Mr. and Mrs. William E. S. Griswold, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Lanond, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. West, Mrs. George W. Bement and Miss Lillian Cram.

William Hall Walker, of New York, whose country estate, Brookside, is one of the great places of the Berkshire shires, has given $5,000 to enable the Thursday Morning Club, of Great Barrington, to build an auditorium for the clubhouse. Mr. Walker is expending $40,000 in macadam roads for the town and the Wyandott Country Club. Mr. and Mrs. Giraud Foster have laid out a new flower garden at Bellefontaine. Forty varieties of sweet peas are to be grown in a garden set aside for that flower. At the edge of the formal garden at Elm Court Mrs. William D. Sloan has had a white marble pergola raised under which tea will be served in the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Harris Fahnestock have placed Italian marble vases throughout their formal gardens.

The Lenox Garden Club plays a very important part in the social entertainment of the colony. Its meetings form a gathering of the most prominent persons who have country homes in the country. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Choate have invited the club to meet at Naumkeag Gardens, July 5, when Louis Agassiz Furbes, of Boston, will speak on "Birds."

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Davis, of 24 Washington Square North, have taken Glenburnie, in Stockbridge, which was for several seasons occupied by Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay. Mrs. Charles Carroll Jackson, who formerly passed the summer in Lenox, has leased a place in Stockbridge. Mr. and Mrs. A. Wood, the country place of the late Colonel William Brewster, of New York, Mrs. Daniel Chester French, Mrs. Frederick Crowninshield and Mrs. Thomas Shields Clarke have resumed their weekly teas.

Miss Nancy Craig Wharton has been re-elected president of the Lenox Village Association.

Hotel Aspinwall was opened to-day for its fourteenth season. Extensive new gardens and many improvements marked the opening. Hutton Hall, in Stockbridge, was opened Friday with the annual convention of the Boston Paper Trade Association.

Arrivals this week included Mr. and Mrs. Archibald C. Harvey, Miss Margaret Carnegie, Miss Estelle Whitford, E. Clarence Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Edna Allen Wickes, Ernest A. Thomson, Mr. Louis M. Hemenway, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Heriot, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lincoln O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Anderson, Mrs. Thomas Whitcomb, Mrs. Henry A. Henriques.

Women of the cottages will serve every afternoon on the Lake Mahkeenac Country Club the summer of June. Practice for the water sports, which will be held July 8, began this week.

SEASON AT PIER ALREADY ACTIVE

Narragansett Pier, R. I., June 19.—Narragansett Pier is resuming its summer life and the arrival of many of the vacationers during the week from New York, Philadelphia and other large cities, the reopening of the Narragansett Reading Room and several of the Pier hotels are indications that the season is about to begin.

Early in the week a number of the cottagers motored to the Point Judith Country Club for golf and tennis, while others took a jaunt to Sanderson and Newport. The beach is now ready for bathing.

The Casino is being redecorated for the summer and will be formally opened on Thursday, July 1, under the management of Fred Mansfield, of Providence. The first concert of the season will take place at the Casino on Saturday, July 3. A dance will follow, preceded by numerous dinners in the cottage colony and on the Casino plaza.

Congressman Peter Goette Gerry, of Rhode Island, arrived in Narragansett Pier recently on his yacht after a cruise through Southern seas. Mr. and Mrs. Gerry will occupy their cottage at Warwick Neck for the summer.

Recent arrivals at the Pier include Professor Brander Matthews of Columbia University, and Mrs. Matthews, Professor Matthews has rented his villa, Shinglenook, to Mrs. A. Sydney Carpenter, of Philadelphia, who has arrived for the summer. Professor and Mrs. Matthews are registered at the Massena.

H. Anthony Dyer, of Providence, has taken a cottage at Wickford for the summer. Robert Lee Keeling, a miniature painter of Washington, has joined the summer colony at the Pier. Mr. W. Harding Jackson and Mrs. T. M. Davis, of Philadelphia, are at the Imperial. John R. McLean, of Washington, D. C., will occupy Kinney Lodge on Ocean Road for the summer. The Arlington is now open for the summer.

First O-te-sa-ga Dance Leads Way for Season

Cooperstown, N. Y., June 19.—The season has begun with everything pointing in favor of the best one ever known in Cooperstown. With the first of the dances on Wednesday evening at the Hotel O-te-sa-ga it seemed as if the season was at its height. The ballroom floor was crowded with the dancers, and the music continued long after the usual hour.

On Thursday Miss Marian Gregory, of New York, who is spending the summer at the O-te-sa-ga, was the hostess at a tea in the yellow room of the hotel. Following the tea, some of the patrons decided on a court golf match. So eagerly did everyone respond that an organized tournament was arranged to take place next week.

Among those at the O-te-sa-ga who expect to remain for some time are Mr. G. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hathorn and Joseph Kelly, of New York; the Reverend and Mrs. N. E. VanSyeckel, of Nashota, Wis.; Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Height, of Princeton, N. J.; Mrs. E. Thomas, of Morrisstown, N. J.
